

Elephant Charging -1991

With his trunk raised, the Bull Elephant charges towards us with his ears flapping. There is a drawing of a charging elephant chasing off a lion which was obviously threatening the herd. Whilst in Botswana, where he was sketching and modelling in the bush, he would watch the elephants from close quarters when they came to the waterhole to drink. David Wynne himself was on the receiving end of such a charge whilst sketching elephants, narrowly escaping with his life.

